Heddon® Chug'n Spook®

The Heddon Spook was the first and is still the best walk-the-dog topwater lure for all types of predator fish. Freshwater, saltwater – it doesn't matter – when you need to walk a topwater, you reach for a Spook. The new Chug'n Spook adds more water disturbance, chugging and spitting action, and a new sound to the Spook family, and despite the concave, cupped face, walks-the-dog with ease. A big One Knocker rattle provides even more attraction, and it comes in saltwater patterns and hardware as well as freshwater versions. In fresh or salt, the Chug'n Spook flat out catches fish.

Heddon® Torpedo®

The Heddon Torpedo has been the world's top-selling, top-producing spinner-equipped lure for generations. The shape and weight allow anglers to cast these lures a little farther than many other prop-baits, allowing them to reach special fish-holding spots quicker and easier. The Torpedo creates a wild, splashing surface disturbance, making them the perfect lures for schooling fish. Heddon Moss Boss™

The Moss Boss is indeed the “boss” when it comes to tempting lunkers into striking from under the thickest moss, weedbeds and brush. The Moss Boss has been perfectly designed to glide easily over and through the heaviest of cover, the kind of cover that holds big muskie, bass and northerns. Heddon Hellbender™

The famous Hellbender began making its way into anglers' tackle boxes in the late 1950s. Over the years, Hellbenders have held many state and world records for most freshwater species. The unique heart-shaped diving lip design gives it the most tempting wide-wobbling action. Its big-lip design also makes it dive quick and deep, and allows it to flip easily over most structure. It is the consummate lure for fishing steep banks and drop-offs...down to at least 35 feet on a long flat-line troll. The Hellbender Downrigger (hookless) model is known as the “poor man’s downrigger.” When trolling the angler’s favorite trolling lure tied on 10 to 20 feet behind a Downrigger Hellbender, it will take the lure down to more than 75 feet.
