Set Yourself Apart™

In about 1947, when I was a young lad, my dad began carving lures cut from the handles of brooms my mother kept around the house. It first began as a hobby. Dad was a salesman for a local business machine company and he began giving these prized, hand-crafted lures to his customers to set himself apart from other salesmen. What started as a sales promotion soon grew into an activity that occupied most of his "spare time." Soon, tired of buying new brooms, and banished from the kitchen when mother thought he was looking for another one, dad felt compelled to move his hobby to the garage and begin purchasing wood for his lures from a local lumber yard.

In 1949, fishermen, learning of the success others had enjoyed with dad's handmade lures, began hounding him to purchase the lures in larger numbers. It was this demand that made him realize that this lure business was getting serious. Soon after that realization, he took his first steps to "mass produce" his lures by purchasing a small wood lathe from Sears, Roebuck and Company and moved it into his garage shop.

The first lure to be produced with this new "mass production" equipment was the renowned Devil's Horse®. Since most anglers used level-wind style reels, dad designed the Devil's Horse® first as a heavier, slow-sinking lure, one that was easy to cast with these reels. Later, with the advent of spinning and spin-cast reels, he began to turn-out a lighter, floating model of this now locally popular and productive lure.

The growth of the Smithwick Lure Company is legendary. From its humble beginnings in my family's kitchen in 1947 to its sprawling manufacturing facilities today, the lures have become the favorites of generations of anglers. The continued development of new lures, new colors and the latest in lure finish technology is a tribute to the foresight my father, Jack K. Smithwick, demonstrated back in 1947. All of us at the Smithwick Lure Company are proud of the standards he established for quality, value and performance, all attributes anglers have come to know and expect from Smithwick Lures for over six decades. This is how he set himself apart.

FLOATING RATTLIN' ROGUE®

The Smithwick Floating Rattlin' Rogue is truly a classic – a legendary lure that's produced millions of fish over the decades. The Rattlin' Rogue has a loud rattle to "call" fish and moves with the rolling side-to-side motion of a wounded baitfish, thus triggering hard strikes. Cast or trolled, Rattlin' Rogues draw the attention of many kinds of gamefish, including bass, walleyes, stripers and trout. Special Rattlin' Rogue colors have been carefully designed to match various models' most common uses, so be sure to consult color listings.

FLOATING SUPER ROGUE®

The Floating Smithwick® Super Rogue is a multi-purpose minnow lure that can be utilized as a jerkbait, crankbait or trolling lure. The integral paddle allows the Floating Super Rogue to run true right out of the box. A favorite big-fish bait for walleye anglers early in the season, the Floating Super Rogue is distinguished by its unique yellow eyes. Because it is a floater, the Floating Super Rogue will "back out" of potential hang-ups and snags. The floating action also allows it to be utilized as a topwater lure.

SUSPENDING SUPER ROGUE®

The Suspending Super Rogue is the premier "jerkbait"...one that will always run true every time whether cast or trolled. The lure also features a unique counter-balance weighting system that allows the weight to shift to the rear of the lure when casting to produce longer, more accurate casts. This great Rogue model boasts an exclusive scale pattern, red 3-D eyes and is designed and engineered to run true and suspend right out of the package.
